U.S. Studies Hanoi's 'Peace Feeler'

Blast Bridges Close To Hanoi, Haiphong

American Pilots Strike Within 9 Miles Of China

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. pilots struck within nine miles of Red China's border Thursday and blasted bridges close to Hanoi and Haiphong, then carried the first big air offensive of the new year into the third day today.

The Soviet government claimed that a U.S. plane during a two-hour attack on Haiphong Thursday badly damaged the Soviet freighter Pereslavl-Zalesky with a delayed action bomb that exploded on a barge some six feet from the Russian ship. The Soviets said none of the ship's crew of 41 was injured.

The U.S. Command in Saigon refused to comment on the Soviet charge. The communiques reporting Thursday's raids told of heavy damage to two of the port city's four main bridges, but said nothing of any attacks on the harbor or docks used by foreign ships. Both are still on the Pentagon's off-limits list to avoid attacks on Soviet ships that would further strain relations between Moscow and Washington.

The break in the monsoon weather over the northern part of North Vietnam continued today for the third day, and officers at U.S. headquarters cautiously predicted a brief extension at least of the good flying weather. U.S. officials had hopes of another all-out offensive similar to the week of deep-penetration raids in December, when the seasonal rains and heavy clouds lifted temporarily.

Ground fighting in the south paralleled the intensity of the air war, with today's war communiques reporting fierce battles in the sensitive northern provinces and along the Cambodian border area northwest of Saigon.

U.S. plane losses over North

Vietnam rose with the return of the raiders into the nest of missiles and antiaircraft guns around Hanoi and Haiphong.

The U.S. Command announced the loss of an Air Force F105 Thunderchief and a Navy F8 Crusader, making three U.S. planes downed since the new air offensive began Wednesday and a total of 777 officially reported lost since the air war started.

Hanoi claimed 13 American planes were shot down since Wednesday, including three today.

The U.S. Command also announced the loss of an F100 Super Sabre to ground fire in South Vietnam, the 220th U.S. combat plane downed in the South.

U.S. Headquarters reported 135 missions against North Vietnam Thursday, an unusually large number for the rainy season.

May Go Home In 3 Weeks

Heart Patient Feels Fine

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Heart transplant patient Philip Blaiberg, feeling fine and "probably a little euphoric," can go home in about three weeks if his condition stays satisfactory, Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard said today, and resume normal activity "within a few months."

The surgeon, reporting optimistically on the second man he has fitted with a new heart, said once Blaiberg is released he would return to Groote Schuur Hospital for daily examinations. "We like to discharge heart patients as soon as possible," Barnard said. "The chance of infection outside is less than in the hospital and if he does catch an infection it is not likely to be so resistant to drugs as an infection he might catch in the hospital."

A medical bulletin issued by the hospital today said Blaiberg's body was free of infection and showed no sign of rejecting its transplanted heart. The patient took his first semisolid food since his operation three days ago—some corn flakes and a soft boiled egg.

Slight changes that showed up in the patient's electrocardiograph Thursday suggesting his body might be reacting adversely to the grafted heart were gone today, Barnard told newsmen. The symptoms were like those which developed in Louis Washkansky, the first human to undergo a heart transplant, whose body asserted its natural tendency to expel foreign tissues.

Barnard commented Thursday that "perhaps we treated the last patient too early for rejection," indicating that antirejection treatment may have weakened Washkansky's natural defenses against infection and made it impossible for him to combat the pneumonia attack that killed him on Dec. 21, 18 days after receiving a young woman's heart.

Expanding on a previous comment that Blaiberg's organs, which had been affected by his old diseased heart, had now improved with the new heart, Barnard said: "The kidneys which had showed a disturbed function are returning to normal. The liver which was swollen and showing jaundice is also returning to normal."

"To some extent the brain was affected—he was not feeling well. Now he is euphoric, possibly showing a better supply of blood to the brain."

In a news conference Thursday, Barnard emphasized the importance of the postoperative period in future heart transplants and said techniques to suppress the rejection tendency must be improved.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is trying through several foreign governments to find out whether North Vietnam wants "prompt and productive" talks on ending the Vietnam war if the United States stops bombing the North.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference Thursday Hanoi has apparently shifted policy. But he said the administration is also watching carefully what happens in the fighting itself for indications of Hanoi's real policy.

Rusk said there is enough potential importance in the latest move by Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh of North Vietnam so that it cannot be brushed aside "as purely a propaganda play."

"One has to be careful and watchful about these things if it does represent a movement," Rusk said. "And we are interested in movements toward a peaceful settlement."

But Rusk also said he could not tell whether there had been a fundamental change in the situation adding: "We know that they (the North Vietnamese Communist leaders) have issued orders for an intensified offensive during the winter season."

"We can't help but take note of the fact that there was an intolerable violation of the recent New Year's cease-fire with a two-battalion attack on a base camp of American forces... and a similar large-scale attack... on Vietnamese forces."

There was speculation in Washington that the statement by Trinh last weekend at a Hanoi reception for an Outer Mongolian delegation may reflect a split over political strategy for achieving Vietnam's war aims.

Trinh said that if the United States unconditionally stops bombing and other hostile war actions against the North his government "will hold talks." For more than a year the official Hanoi wording had been that talks "could" be held.

Interest in this development had come to overshadow Cambodian Prince Sihanouk's declaration last week that he would receive a representative from President Johnson to talk about excluding Communist forces from Cambodian territory on the Vietnamese border. Johnson announced Thursday he is sending Ambassador Chester Bowles from India shortly to confer with Sihanouk.

The Bowles mission is concerned with a problem that will continue if the war continues whereas the Hanoi probe is concerned with a maneuver that could move the war toward an early conclusion. Bowles might end up having a hand at both operations, since Sihanouk's capital, Phnom Penh, is one of the places where it is possible for Westerners or other would-be peacemakers to get in touch with North Vietnamese representatives.

Other major channels of contact include the Soviet, Indian, Polish and Canadian governments which are members of the three-power International Control Commissions which operate, under various severe handicaps, in the former Indo-Chinese countries. In addition there have been various contacts in the past through Romania, Hungary, Burma, Egypt and Algeria. One of the chief representatives of the Hanoi regime outside the country is its official in Paris, Mai Van Bo. U.S. officials said there was thus no lack of opportunities for communication between Washington and Hanoi. But they indicated that so far communication has not been very active in this period of probing. State Department authorities believe the process is likely to be slow.

Rusk said that even if Hanoi had shifted position, the big question for the United States was to determine what any such shift meant.

Hanoi's Peace Feeler Stirs Wide Interest

What appears to be a peace feeler from North Vietnam is arousing interest in capitals where peace in Vietnam is a prime concern.

Soviet Says Vessel Hit In Air Raid

Moscow Protests; State Department Declines Comment

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government claimed that a Soviet ship was seriously damaged by an American air raid on Haiphong Thursday, Moscow Radio reported.

The broadcast said the Soviet government protested to the U.S. government.

The broadcast said the Soviet merchant ship Pereslavl-Zalesky was damaged by a bomb during an American raid on the North Vietnamese harbor. It said there were no casualties.

Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin delivered the protest in Washington to Secretary of State Dean Rusk Thursday, the report said.

In Washington, the U.S. State Department declined immediate comment.

The Soviet note said that "in connection with the situation that is being created, Soviet authorities will be compelled to carry out measures to insure the safety of Soviet ships" going to North Vietnam.

It pointed out that Moscow had protested previous incidents in which it maintained Soviet

Burglar Uses Auto To Haul Firm's Safe

A burglar used an auto or a truck to haul a safe containing $60 from the Herdman Bros. Welding Supply Co. at 218 Baum St. Thursday night or early today, police reported.

Emmett Thayer, an employee, reported the entry to police. He said the intruder entered by a door on the south side of the building, then wheeled the safe out the front door and loaded it into a motor vehicle.

The entry was timed between 5 p. m. Thursday and 8 a. m. today. The safe is about 12½ inches by 3 feet, officers said. The safe contained $40 in $1 bills and $20 in change, as well as a First National Bank deposit book and $29 in checks marked for deposit. Alvin Herdman was listed as the owner.

It was the second such instance in three days. A stickup man took about $100 early Tuesday from an attendant at the Humble Service Station at E. 3rd and Broadway, then he and accomplices loaded the office safe into a vehicle and hauled it away.

The rifled safe later was found in an empty basement area in Pink Alley. Police are continuing a search for the bandit, identified as a man in his early 20's wearing a goatee and a thin mustache.

Rhodes Won't Call Special Session

Assembly Faces Jan. 26 Redistricting Deadline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio General Assembly will have only 12 days to hammer out a new congressional redistricting formula in time to meet a Jan. 26 deadline.

Despite the surprise time limit set Thursday by a three-judge federal court in Cleveland, Gov. James A. Rhodes has decided against calling a special session of the legislature to tackle the problem.

The decision was made during a two-hour meeting Thursday night between Rhodes, House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess, Senate Majority Leader Ted Gray and John McElroy, the governor's top aide.

"There will be no special session," McElroy said in a brief announcement following the skull session of Republican leaders.

The legislature is due back from last August's recess Jan. 15 and McElroy said the consensus at the meeting was that "not much additional time" would be gained by an early callback.

He added that the legislature still will be able to "come up with legislation that will satisfy the court" in time to meet the deadline.

Meanwhile, another joint session of the Senate Elections-Commerce-Labor and House Government Operations committees was planned for this morning to take up the redistricting problem.

Rhodes already has submitted a plan calling for population variations of less than one-half of 1 per cent in Ohio's 24 congressional districts.

The U.S. Supreme Court recently ruled Ohio's current redistricting setup was invalid due to population imbalances.

The deadline was set after the Cleveland judges acted on a suit brought last year by Charles P. Lucas of Cleveland and eight other persons contesting congressional districting used in the 1966 elections.

The federal court originally upheld the current districting but the U.S. Supreme Court reversed the decision, sending the case back for action by the lower court.

Bids For GOP Nomination

Saxbe Will Seek Senate Seat Held By Lausche

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe announced today he will seek the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche.

Saxbe had indicated he would go after the Senate seat if Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, decided not to run, and Taft announced early this week he'll try for re-election to the House this year.

Lausche has already announced for re-election. He has held the seat since 1957, when he left the governor's office after five terms.

Saxbe, 51, of Mechanicsburg, is in his third term as attorney general. He is a former legislator, and was speaker of the Ohio House in the 1953-54 session, when Lausche was governor.

In announcing, Saxbe said, "I take this action after conferring with and at the request of Republican leaders throughout Ohio."

"It is my firm conviction that if nominated and elected, I can do a better job of representing all of the people of Ohio in these troubled times."

"At appropriate times throughout the primary and general election campaign, I will make my views known with no equivocation on the issues which affect our state and nation."

Sherman Unger, 40, a Cincinnati attorney, obtained petitions from the secretary of state's office Thursday to make the race for the Republican nomination. Former congressman John Gilligan, 48, of Cincinnati is considering opposing Lausche on the Democratic side of the May 7 primary.

Flames Level Frame House In Bitter Cold

NEW GARDEN — William Ingledue, 25, his wife Nancy and their two small sons returned from a family visit Thursday night to find their home and possessions in ashes.

Their two-story frame house was a mass of flame, with the bitterly cold west wind carrying sparks a quarter of a mile when firemen arrived about 7:30.

Firemen from Hanover Township units at Hanoverton and Guilford Lake were unable to extinguish the gale-swept flames in the 10-degree temperature.

The Ingledues were purchasing the two-story frame dwelling on the west side of McCann Rd., about a half-mile north of Route 172. The house was on

Kline Will Run Again For Senatorial Post

BEAVER — State Sen. Ernest P. Kline, 38, of Beaver Falls has announced he will seek re-election.

Kline, a Democrat, is floor leader of the Senate. He represents the 47th Senatorial District, which includes Beaver County and part of Washington County.

He was named minority leader by his Democratic colleagues in August 1967. He is a member of various committees and has been a radio news and sports broadcaster since 1950.

Below Zero Marked In Many Areas

No Relief Expected Immediately For Northern Section

By The Associated Press
Winter belted the country with subzero cold from Montana to Maine today. Temperatures tumbled to near zero as far south as Kentucky and Tennessee.

No immediate relief of consequence was in sight for Northern states numbed by nearly two weeks of arctic cold snaps sweeping out of Canada in close succession.

Blizzard warnings were posted for Montana east of the Continental Divide, and the Weather Bureau said the storm would be followed by a new cold wave later today and tonight. Hazardous driving warnings extended southward into Wyoming and east into the Plains.

The mercury slid to 21 below zero at International Falls, Minn., and to 5 below at Minneapolis-St. Paul. Readings near 20 below were expected as far south as Milwaukee.

Bitter cold temperatures settled into Kentucky and Tennessee in the wake of an ice storm which blazed both states earlier in the week. Early morning lows around 8 above were indicated at Nashville.

Ice clung to some secondary roads in Kentucky, but most highways were open and passable. Tennessee roads remained icy in spots, but most schools were able to reopen in both

'We Need It,' Expert Says Of The Cold

Nine degrees below zero was the overnight low at Millport—the third sub-zero reading this week — and that's just what the district needs, Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer reports.

The Millport weather station had a minus 15 degrees Monday and a minus 10 Tuesday. Wednesday brought a "balmy" six above, according to Copeland.

Why do we need such cold temperatures? The winter weather up to this week has been too warm, Copeland said, explaining the trees and shrubbery were coming out of their dormant stage. "We even had a groundhog — who should be hibernating — running around outside the house," he declared.

The area normally can expect eight or nine nights of zero and

$6,000 Salary Scheduled For New Inspector's Job

Members of City Council, meeting in a caucus session Thursday night with Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, agreed upon a $6,000 annual salary for the newly-created post of municipal building inspector.

The inspector's post was created in a building inspection ordinance enacted late in 1967, but the job could not be filled because no rate of pay was set. The ordinance says the post will be filled by the mayor, subject to ratification by Council.

In addition to buildings, the inspector will check upon plumbing and electrical work. Fire inspections will be made by the fire chief.

Council and the administration expect that all the salary, or the major share of it, will be covered by fees for building permits and inspections.

Council asked Solicitor J. Michael Kapp to draw up legislation for the inspector's salary.

It will be taken up at the next regular meeting on Jan. 15 unless a special session is called in the meantime.

The ordinance also calls for appointment of a five-man Board of Housing Appeals to hear citizens' appeals from decisions of the inspector or regulations in the inspection ordinance. The mayor will name the board, subject to Council's approval.

Council also discussed a tentative schedule of fees for issuance of permits, which also would cover the charges for inspection, but no final decision was reached.

The fees are on a sliding scale based primarily on the size of the proposed building. For instance, the fee for erection of a garage would be $5, plus 50 cents per square foot for the inspection.

The fee for a new one-, two- or three-family dwelling would be $20, plus $1 for each 100 square feet of area to be inspected.

May Resume Monday

Cold Delays Engineers' Check Of Chester Bridge

Inspection of the Chester Bridge — interrupted by the current bitter cold and snow — is scheduled to be resumed Monday by two engineers from Harrisburg, Pa.

Frank Masters of the Modjeski and Masters firm, retained by the Ohio Highway Department to inspect the span and two others, said the two engineers were in Harrisburg today.

Their work on the bridge was halted by the snow and recent severe cold weather, he explained, but they are to return to East Liverpool Monday to continue the study.

Masters estimated it would require three days to a week more to complete the inspection.

He said rigging and other equipment will be used next week — weather permitting — as part of the project. A lift device will be employed to elevate the men to sections of the span which are not accessible. Traffic will be restricted to some degree to allow use of the equipment.

The Ft. Steuben Bridge and Pomeroy Bridge also are being checked under contract with the Ohio Highway Department as a result of the collapse of the West Virginia-owned Point Pleasant Bridge Dec. 15, claiming more than 40 lives.

Masters said when the local inspection of the 70-year-old bridge is completed, the men will prepare their report for the firm, it will be reviewed by the top engineers and then will be submitted to the state authorities.

Asked if the inspection so far has shown any need for replacement of the bridge, Masters said no preliminary reports have been made. He said had any serious problem been discovered, the two men would have immediately notified highway officials.

Masters estimated it will be a month before the full report is provided to Ohio authorities.

As a result of some questions asked The Review about the Pennsylvania Route 63 bridge over Beaver Creek at Smiths Ferry, Beaver County Highway Superintendent James Miller said the span was inspected last year by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways and found structurally safe.

He said the span has a load limit of 25 tons. Questioned about possible overloads by steel-carrying trucks, he said the 25-ton limit applies to the restriction on one vehicle, not to the total load for the bridge. He said the span is checked each year, as are all bridges in the state.

Five Are Named To Beaver Board

BEAVER — Five members were named to the Beaver County Mental Health-Retardation Advisory Board by the county commissioners Thursday.

Appointed were Miss Helen McCandless of the Department of Welfare; Milton Appleyard, executive director of the Beaver Valley Providence General Hospital; Commissioner James Ross; Msgr. Raymond Schull of the St. Peter - St. Paul Church of Beaver; and the Rev. Robert Phillips of the Rochester Presbyterian Church.

Terms of hospital members on the board will be rotated among administrators.

The commissioners authorized payment of $6,514 of a $13,905 assessment to the Southwestern Regional Planning Commission to enable the commission to receive a federal grant. The balance will be paid in May and September.

Auto Blaze Quelled By Chester Firemen

Chester firemen extinguished a blaze in an auto's transmission Thursday night.

The department was called to the home of Ben Fetty of the Fairview Rd. about 8:35. Grease on the transmission was blamed for the blaze.

Fourteen men and one truck responded and remained at the scene about 15 minutes.

Defense Plea Rejected In Red Dog Raid

WHEELING — Judge Robert E. Maxwell has dismissed one defense motion involving the Nov. 4 raid on the Red Dog gambling casino in the "Strip" in Hancock County, but continued arguments on the second motion.

The motions were entered in U. S. District Court here by Attys. Abraham Pinsky, Richard Barnes and William Watson of Wellsburg.

Judge Maxwell rejected a motion to dismiss interstate gambling charges against the four men arrested by Internal Revenue Service agents at the Red Dog.

In upholding the action of U. S. Commissioner John Vujnovic, Judge Maxwell said there was probable cause for binding the men over to the federal grand jury. The judge said a dismissal would be a "dangerous invasion" of criminal procedures since Vujnovic had bound the men over to the grand jury.

Judge Maxwell also listened to testimony on a second motion for the return of the money, gambling equipment and whisky, but this portion of the hearing was not concluded. The judge said arguments will be heard and a ruling issued later.

About $7,000 in cash and approximately $8,000 worth of liquor and gambling equipment were seized in the IRS raid. The petition asking for the return of the property was signed by Joseph M. Pecora, owner of the Jungle Inn, Inc., and the Red Dog, and by Benny Phillips, president of the Jungle Inn and associated with the New Cumberland Vending Co.

James Beck, one of the defendants, testified that agents took $175.41 of his personal money during the raid.

Also arrested on charges of traveling interstate to promote a gambling operation were Charles Ayoub, Ralph Fischetti and Joseph Mochan, all of whom allegedly reside in the Pittsburgh area.

Group Will Seek Kennedy's Name On Pennsy Ballot

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Citizens for Kennedy group says it will conduct a drive to put Sen. Robert F. Kennedy on the April primary ballot in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Martin Shepherd, a New York psychiatrist who heads the group, said Thursday Pennsylvania could turn the tide for Kennedy. He added a drive will be conducted in 13 Pennsylvania counties to raise signatures for Kennedy.

If enough signatures are obtained — at least 13 in each county — Kennedy's name will appear on the ballot regardless of whether or not he approves. Shepherd said the purpose of his drive is to give Democrats an alternative to President Johnson, who is expected to seek re-election.

Results of the April 23 preferential primary are not binding on delegates to the Democratic National convention.

Shepherd said the counties where his group will work for signatures are Berks, Allegheny, Chester, Crawford, Carbon, Lehigh, Philadelphia, Cumberland, Delaware, Westmoreland, Montgomery, Erie and Lackawanna.

Consecration Set For Church Wing At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Consecration of the new 12-room education wing of the Centenary Methodist Church will be held Sunday morning at 10:30.

Bishop Francis E. Kearns of the East District of the Ohio Methodist Church will be the speaker. Assisting him will be Dr. Ralph M. Gray, district superintendent. The Rev. Thomas Hammerton is pastor.

All four choirs of the church will sing. At noon, a coverdinner will be served at the church basement, followed by a brief program.

The $170,000 structure will be placed in use early in the spring.

Atwell Seeks Hancock Post

A New Cumberland resident has filed in the Hancock County Circuit Court as a Democratic candidate for county commissioner in the May primary election.

He is the second Democrat to file for a ballot place in the commissioners' race.

William (Wick) Atwell of 408 Filmore St., New Cumberland, filed Thursday at the Court-house, seeking the nomination from Clay District. The position presently is held by Jack Evans, also of New Cumberland.

Atwell, a Weirton Steel Co. employe, said he pledges devotion of his "full time to the position."

Declaring non-alignment with political factions in the county, Atwell said he is interested only in providing good government.

The 67-year-old Atwell attended schools in New Cumberland and the Steubenville Business College. He has worked 41 years with Weirton Steel, 31, as a foreman. He retired in 1961 as stock house foreman in the Open Hearth Department.

He was a Justice of the Peace in Clay District from 1945-1949.

He is married and the father of two children. He is a member of the Weirton Steel Co.'s 25-year club and the IOOF Lodge of Chester.

Joseph Manypenny, a former sheriff, also will bid for Evans' position in the May primary ballot. He filed for the post earlier this week.

Hancock presently has three commissioners, but Evans' is the lone post open in this election. Therefore, all candidates are required to reside in Clay District.

Neville Classes Suspended Due To Cold Weather

Cold weather forced the closing of one city school this morning, although the children were instructed to return for classes this afternoon.

The 245 pupils at Neville School in East End were sent home when it was found the temperature in the rooms was only in the 60s.

Supt. Paul Blair said the custodian remained at the school until 10 p. m. Thursday and returned early this morning to fire the coal furnace, but it was impossible to maintain the proper heat.

The building is old and the wind leaking in around the windows and doors forces down the temperature, it was pointed out.

Other buildings in the system also were fired during the night to keep them warm enough for classes, Blair said. The circulating fans at Pleasant Heights and Lincoln School were left on all night and the custodian at Central Building reported at 1 a. m. today to begin the task of heating the school.

A check was made throughout the night by custodians at all buildings heated with coal furnaces.

Midland Lions Given Report On Blind Training

John McMichael, executive director of the Beaver County chapter of the Pennsylvania Association of the Blind, was guest speaker when the Midland Lions Club met Thursday night at the Willows Motel in Industry. Twenty-three attended.

McMichael, who is blind, was accompanied by his Labrador retriever. He discussed the training of seeing-eye dogs.

He also reviewed work being done in Beaver County for the rehabilitation of the blind to make them useful in industry. He said a worldwide radio hook-up is being formed among the blind.

The club will hold Dan R. Laderer, District 14N governor, Jan. 18 at 6:30 p. m. at the Willows. The board of directors will meet following his talk.

The club will host the Beaver County party for the blind Jan. 27 at PAB headquarters in Beaver Falls. Some 100 are expected to attend.

Truman E. Rodfong, chairman of the sight conservation committee, is general chairman.

Fund Shortages Being Pondered

NEW CUMBERLAND — A shortage of $9,840.16 in city funds for the period from July 1, 1965 to Sept. 30, 1967, was noted in a report submitted at a joint meeting of the Water and Sewage Board and New Cumberland Council Wednesday in the city building.

According to the report, $1,132.71 is missing in funds from the water department for the period July 1, 1965 to June 30, 1966, and $993.12 is missing from the sewage department for that same period, for a total of 2,125.83.

A breakdown of the unaccounted for funds for the period extending from July 1, 1966 to Sept. 30, 1967 shows these shortages: General fund $157.50; water fund $2,573.62; special water fund, $480; sewage fund, $3,158.49, for a total of $6,369.61.

The shortage breakdown for the three-month period extending from July 1, 1967, to Sept. 30, 1967 shows: Water fund, $792.67; sewage fund, $402.66; special water fund, $150, for a total of $1,345.23.

Mayor Arthur Watson explained that the audit was conducted only on available records. Some records were not available.

Edwin Flowers, city solicitor, did not attend the meeting and members said they are unsure what action may be taken on the audit report. Flowers, Watson said, will attend the next meeting, Monday, to explain what action his office will take.

Also revealed to members were $8,000, in debts from the various water and sewage department funds incurred by the previous administration.

Action on purchasing a billing machine for the Water and Sewage Board was tabled until the next meeting. A representative of the NCR Co. which produces the machine will attend the meeting Monday to discuss the device.

Councilman Lawrence Andrews reported that a representative of the West Virginia Department of Health had visited New Cumberland and registered complaints of residents concerning the plant, which has not been in operation since August. The breakdown was attributed to a well which requires pumping. Andrews was given the permission to contact a firm to see about having the well pumped.

Upon the suggestion of Councilman George Weigel, a warning sign will be installed at Chelsea Hill advising motorists of children sled riding on the hill.

Weigel was commended by the mayor and Council for his efforts on behalf of the Christmas lighting program. They also cited Chief of Police William Webster and the Headers Car Club for the community Christmas tree obtained and erected by the youths.

Councilmen attending the meeting were Dean Chamberlain, Robert Mills, Hervey Swearingen, George Weigel and Charles Wooster. Also attending were Frank Chamberlain, Tom Donovan and Mayor Watson.

states after weather-extended holiday vacations.

Snow dusted parts of the Northern states, but with a few exceptions amounts were light. A blizzard sweeping off Lake Superior dumped a foot of snow on Houghton, in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. The situation was compounded by a wildcat strike by Houghton County Road Commission employees which halted plowing operations. Snow removal crews from adjacent counties opened the county's two major highways—U.S. 41 and M26—but all secondary roads remained virtually impassable.

Temperatures dipped to 20 below across the Upper Peninsula. Another lake-generated storm swept off Lake Ontario into western Upstate New York and buried the Booneville area under 14 inches of snow.

Blowing and drifting snow were widespread across much of New York State, and some secondary roads were drifted shut. An elevated highway and bridge at Buffalo had to be closed four hours during the night due to blowing snow and slippery pavements.

the Howard Baker farm, 2½ miles west of here.

Franklin Humphrey, whose farmhouse is on the east side of McCann Rd. opposite the Ingledue, turned in the alarm.

He said he saw a red glow on trees on the west side of the Ingledue place and was reasonably sure the house was on fire at the rear.

Humphrey and his wife Marilyn got in their car to drive down the lane to see if anyone was at home. He said the fire must have been burning inside for some time because the house "exploded" just as they got to the end of the lane. Flames burst from all the windows at once, he said.

He said he feared for his dairy barn several hundred yards away, but the sparks passed south of it and north of an old school building which Baker uses for storage.

Ingledue works at Columbiana Foundry. The family is staying temporarily with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gower of Route 62 (Salem - Canfield Rd.), where they were visiting when the fire broke out. The Ingledue children are Samuel, 2, and James, 3 months.

Schools-labor: On the outlook for a bill requiring school boards to negotiate with majority teacher organizations, Kurfess said the outlook was dim "although we haven't closed the door."

Riot control: Consolidation of six or seven measures into one bill is expected. Included might be increasing jurisdiction of the highway patrol and giving mayors authority to close businesses and set curfews.

7 Children Perish

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Fire swept a row house today and firemen said seven children apparently died as their mother stood outside screaming for help.

Firemen in nearby Parkersburg blamed a faulty space heater, burning to ward off the sub-freezing cold, for the fire that wrecked the home of Ralph Hoover, 30, and four adjacent houses.

Arraignment Scheduled In Shooting Case

Mrs. Dolores M. Reese, 37, of the Bell School Rd., charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, will be arraigned Monday at 9:30 a. m. in Columbiana County Eastern Court at East Palestine.

Judge D. Barry Dickson continued the arraignment Thursday afternoon because the defendant did not have counsel. She told the court she will employ an attorney.

Judge Dickson set bond at $5,000 and Constable Chester Brown of St. Clair Township returned Mrs. Reese to the County Jail at Lisbon.

The constable arrested her Wednesday night on an affidavit signed by her estranged husband, Joseph (Jack) Reese, 37, who told authorities his wife emptied a .22-caliber pistol at him in her home. One of the slugs passed through the muscle of his upper right arm.

Both husband and wife have divorce proceedings pending in Common Pleas Court. They were married in 1959 and have three children.

McFeely of Toronto paid $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of crashing a traffic light at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts. Monday.

David W. Chrisman of 1805 Clark Ave., Wellsville, forfeited $17.50 on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." He was cited at 2 this morning by Patrolman H. Clyde Dillon.

Forfeiting bonds of $27.50 each on speeding charges were Edward A. Derringer of Enon Valley, Pa., cited by the patrol Tuesday on Route 7; William S. Leard III of Evans City, Pa., cited by the patrol Dec. 30 on Route 30, and Donald R. Leitzel of East Cleveland, also cited Dec. 30 on Route 30 by the patrol.

Democrats Name 11 On Slate For Primary Election In May

The Columbiana County Democratic Central Committee, meeting Thursday night in the county party headquarters on N. Market St., Lisbon, discussed 11 candidates who have announced or filed for county and district offices in the primary election in May.

The field includes: County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge, for re-election; County Recorder John Wargo of Lisbon, for a new term; Max Gard of near Lisbon, incumbent, and Ollie Campbell of East Liverpool and Lew Sowards of Elk-run Township, for two commissioners' posts.

County Engineer John Ursu of Salem, for a new term; Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey Jr. of Columbiana, for a new term; Forrest Young of Franklin Township, for sheriff; Roy Allen of Columbiana and John Donnelly of Perry Township, for state representative, and Dr. William J. Kolozsi of Salem, for a new term as coroner. Young, the sheriff aspirant, is a constable in Franklin and Wayne townships and also serves as marshal in Summitville.

The committee, comprised of a member from each of the 168 precincts in the county, also endorsed President Lyndon Johnson, Sen. Frank J. Lausche and Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, for new terms.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county chairman, presided. He said more candidates may enter in the future and that the 11 discussed last night do not necessarily constitute the entire field. The party has no candidates at present for prosecuting attorney or Common Pleas Court judge.

In a talk to the committee, Gosney declared that the "commissioners will be responsible for an additional $8,000 annual expense to the county in their assuming the operation of the county courts." Gosney declared that the temporary three-month appropriation set up for operation of the courts in early 1968 shows the budget is up $2,000 from the comparable period last year. On that basis, the additional annual cost will be $8,000, he said.

Gosney also charged that the county is "broke" financially under the administration of the present board of commissioners. He said the county may have enough funds for routine operations — but "that will become a question near the end of the year." He said there will be no funds available to undertake any improvements.

The next meeting will be Feb. 1 in the headquarters at Lisbon.

Charges By Gosney Draw Denial By Pike

LISBON — Charles Pike of Lisbon, Columbiana County GOP chairman, in replying to charges made by Democratic Chairman Don R. Gosney, commented today that Gosney's charge that the county commissioners will spend $8,000 more this year on operation of the three county courts "is without foundation, as usual."

Commissioners took over control of the lower courts Jan. 1. Pike observed that Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey, who formerly had supervision, proposed to hire an additional clerk in each court to handle small claims work — a new division of the courts.

Pike said the commissioners say there have been so few small claims filings that the present staffs can handle this work without help.

A year ago, Trinh had said cessation of acts of war against North Vietnam "could" get talks started. Some American officials consider the difference between Washington's and Hanoi's conditions for talks have been narrowed. Others think Trinh's statement may be part of a new propaganda effort to mobilize foreign opinion against the U.S. bombing. They contend it leaves a good many questions unanswered.

The statement aroused hope in New Delhi and Ottawa, and South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do said Hanoi could be signaling an appreciable change in its position.

Support For KSU

The assistance of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potlars in developing the East Liverpool Kent State University Academic Center is not fully known to the residents of the area.

The IBOP has provided the W. 6th St. building for a token $1 a year to the Center for classes and offices ever since it was opened in 1965.

The union also has footed the bills for lighting and heat, moved the meeting places of its various locals around to accommodate Kent's needs, and helped in many other ways, including aid in publishing the student paper.

Jack Urchek, Center director, at an advisory board session this week paid tribute to the union's role in furthering the Kent growth in East Liverpool, citing the willingness of E. L. Wheatley and his IBOP staff to do whatever was needed.

Wheatley commented he had never received one complaint from union members about the use of the building by Kent or of some of the inconvenience caused. He added there has never been any misuse or damage to the building by the students.

Wheatley went on to explain how the union members recognized the value of the Center in helping to educate the young people of the potlars and others in the community.

Urchek reported the Center has recently been painted — at the union's expense — and wryly said he had told university authorities he had been involved in "negotiations" with a union and for the first time had walked away with "three points."

The unhesitating support of the union and many other organizations and individuals in the district is commendable; it reflects a natural generosity toward any educational opportunity for youth, and it reveals an awareness of the tremendous benefit the Center can be culturally and economically to the community.

With the transfer of the Center to the high school, and expansion of its programs, more assistance will be required for the Center. The record of help and cooperation of the past three years, guided by Frank A. Dawson, promises great things for KSU here in the years to come.

Medicine And Its Miracles

In South Africa, a dead man's beating heart is keeping another man alive.

In America, a dead child's kidneys are functioning perfectly in the body of a growing boy.

Around the world, an assortment of plastic tubes and electronic gadgets make life possible where once there was no hope.

All modern miracles of medicine. Given enough time and enough money, dedicated researchers will come with cures for killer diseases still plaguing us.

The outstanding record of progress in medicine has been achieved through a worldwide sharing of knowledge. This complete sense of cooperation on an international basis is found in no other profession.

Competition tied to profit or prestige invades other fields and endeavors. A set up like this encourages duplication of effort, wasted time on wild goose chases and places a restriction on funds.

In medicine, the global goal is a common one — and an honorable one. Alleviating the suffering of man, preserving life—in short, healing.

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

In these times when so many young people are giving advice to their elders, it is only fitting that you get advice from me, so many years your junior.

Things look different to the young than they do to the old, Twill. Oft-times a younger mind is clearer than an older one, because it is less cluttered with an accumulation of years of extraneous information, no matter how valuable such information may seem to the older person.

All of this is by way of introduction before we come to the nitty-gritty of the matter — which is that "girl in the red Corvair."

I wouldn't dream of bringing up such a personal subject in public, but since this is only a private letter between the two of us it is okay to give you my views.

We have been following your accounts of the surreptitious encounters you two have been having while on the way to work. In fact, I have been so intrigued I have on a few occasions attempted to meet the red Corvair myself, but to no avail.

"Cherchez la Corvair rouge," as the old saying goes.

Now for my counsel to you.

First, no matter what the inconvenience, you should alter your route so that such chance meetings cease to occur. A few minutes of extra driving time on your part are nothing to the risks involved in your persisting on your present course.

Failing that and if such fleeting highway glimpses continue despite my counsel, try by all means to forget there ever was a red Corvair.

And if you find that is impossible after exerting your utmost power of will, for goodness sake do not wave. It could cause talk.

Even more dangerous is taking a hand off the steering wheel to wave.

One should have no distractions while undertaking the hazardous activity of driving a car on today's accident-ridden highways. Always remember the first maxim of safe driving — keep your feet on the pedals and both hands on the steering wheel. Both hands!

Ordinarily such a subject would not warrant such extended comment, but you are too precious to many of us to let yourself be led into carelessness while operating your chariot in traffic.

Despite your advanced age, there are amongst us younger generation those who venerate you and who would go to great lengths, as evidenced by this letter, to keep you whole. Please avoid foreign entanglements.

Although this may not sound like a compliment, it was intended as such when just the other day somebody remarked, "Nobody who loves dogs as much as Twill does could be all bad."

Trusting you will accept this sincere advice from a true friend in the spirit in which it is offered I remain,

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Purely Personal Observations

Our Great Good Government has ordered auto makers to install seat harness in new cars, and this is an extra-cost item. OK. So now what happens if I tell a dealer to take out the seat harness because I do not want it? Our Great Good Government cannot make me use it, so why should I pay for it?

I am wondering when the surgeons will quit fooling with heart transplants, which are tricky and risky, and get down to something foolproof like lifting scalps from haired-over cadavers and sewing them on baldies who would be willing to pay a fair price for a new head of hair.

I am not the only user of postage stamps who has become so confused about rates it will take months before I get straightened out. All I know for sure is that it takes 25 cents for each half ounce I send to the interior of Russia, but 13 cents an ounce for surface mail to most other places, except Canada and Mexico. Is that clear?

I have read Life Magazine's description of the way "The Mob" hooked a Lindsay administration reformer and wonder what makes mob operations different from routine methods of back-scratching and log-rolling in awarding business contracts. The work that was paid for was performed — and the "bribery" was chicken-feed.

Biggest new idea is to turn over all routine work to semi-trained help, thereby freeing fully trained help to do what it is too valuable not to be doing. This could be the solution to the unemployment problem if it catches on.

It is impressive when an expert comes forth with an opinion that already had been reached inexpertly by millions, such as the opinion that the Silver Bridge at Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., collapsed because it was overloaded with rush-hour traffic.

Ralph Nader now is sniffing in a new place and contending fish-eaters are getting rotten fish. Denmark should keep this fellow at ocean's length. He can spot something rotten in any direction his nose points.

Roger Maris has given involuntary publicity to an affliction commoner than is generally comprehended — Bell's Palsy. It paralyzes one side of the face and can be induced by a draft. Its effects often are permanent and disfiguring.

Experts say Lake Erie will be the first of the Great Lakes to dry up and disappear. In that case, that proposed bridge might as well be held up indefinitely and the money used, instead, to dig a canal to connect Cleveland with Canada.

'Ain't Nobody Here But Us Peace-Loving Cambodians'

VICTOR RIESEL

Cuban Money Given To Back Riots

WASHINGTON — Confidential word has been passed on to President Johnson not to commit himself to the theory that there has been no plot to whip up bloody, flame-filled riots in some 70 major cities during the past three years.

This message, which came from several knowledgeable members of the President's 11-man Commission on Civil Disorders, also warned of a conspiracy to stir street action in June and make this coming summer the longest and hottest of all.

All this will not be found in Victor Riesel the commission's formal report which it expects to release in mid-February after a series of windup meetings Jan. 9 to 11 in the still nameless new executive office building a block from the White House. But the private warning nonetheless is grim, and flatly contradicts the FBI's finding that there was no conspiracy behind the riots.

The White House was told that some commission members believe that considerable money has passed from Castro's coffers in Havana to tiny direct action cells in scores of cities.

At the inner gut of the loose melange of riot-inciting cells, it was said, is a network of small Peking-oriented "parties" and "movements."

Great effort has been made by the commission members, in sharp, clear and concise language, to point out that scores of riots burst out spontaneously and were exploited by the direct actionists — and that the vast bulk of the Negro communities abhor them as much as the white population.

In its final and formal report to the President, the commission will reinforce the theory that only the immediate employment of at least 500,000 young Negroes can prevent further endemic and spontaneous disturbances throughout the land during the next few summers.

THE COMMISSION especially will point to three cities — Detroit, Newark and Cincinnati, in that order — as urban concentrations which need immediate help.

The commission bases this on the personal survey of eight cities by its members who went in groups of five or more, including I. W. Abel, president of the United Steel Workers, as labor's representative. Some 23 cities were examined in depth by survey teams selected from some 30 staff members.

While they hit hard at the sociological roots of the riots, they found much the same grim economic causes, organized provocation and exploitation of "incidents" and riots as did the investigators dispatched by Sen. McClellan's Permanent Investigative Subcommittee of the Committee on Government Operations.

There is ample, awesome evidence of tiny groups plotting to kill police en masse in Philadelphia and New York. There is evidence of arms stockpiling, manuals for improvising arms and assembly-line production of Molotov cocktails.

There is documentation of conspiracies by wild neo-leftists who consider even the American Communist Party "bourgeois," revisionist and part of the status quo.

In all there are some 500 to 600 tiny cells in scores of cities ranging from New York to Los Angeles' Watts. For the most part they are not linked to a national organization. "They float in the murky slums like loose political meteors seeking some strong gravitational pull from a strong leader to mass them together," according to one of McClellan's aides.

And there are those who try to weld them into one movement. Some are like the Revolutionary Action Movement, active in New York, Philadelphia, Detroit, and Cincinnati, but not much farther west. It is strictly Peking-Oriented. There are the Black Guard organization, and the "Communist Party, USA, Marxist-Leninist," a Maoist operation which splintered from the traditional Moscow-line U.S. Communist Party.

MOST ACTIVE and most successful is the apparently well-financed Progressive Labor Party. It does not lack for publications; it has a newspaper and a thick magazine.

Its leader, William Epton, is making the rounds of universities and even some churches. He has been observed in upstate New York. His colleagues, according to unimpeachable observers, are active in the big Boston think center where they have infiltrated new left campus organizations.

The Progressive Labor Party is Maoist. Its leaders are the original direct actionists of this era. If any force has a chance to coalesce the swirling cells, the PLP is it.

They are all difficult to fight unless the younger Negro finds job openings. This is the great concern of such moderates as the NAACP's Roy Wilkins and the Urban League's Whitney Young.

They have been pounding at some unions in the big labor federation to open its ranks and have been cooperating with such corporations as the Ford Motor Co. and General Electric in special and unpunished projects to train the Negro youngsters.

But it's a tough — and rough — race against the kind of guerrilla movement this nation has never seen before. It takes only a handful of rumormongers, fire bomb throwers, rooftop rifle squads, and mimeograph operators to turn an incident into a riot which runs in shifts.

Then the black and white communities are alienated from each other and reconciliation must start all over again amid the charred buildings and rubble-strewn streets.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Congress' Child

Lots of things have been said or written about Lyndon Johnson and the kind of president he is, and undoubtedly public opinion will be affected to some extent in the election year 1968 by the "image" of the chief executive portrayed by the press and TV commentators.

There is one thing about Mr. Johnson in the White House which has not been presented objectively to the public. He must be appraised in relation to the background of his career prior to becoming vice president.

He is the first man in this century to reach the White House after having spent 24 years in Congress—12 consecutive years in the House of Representatives, 12 in the U.S. Senate.

During six of those latter years, he was majority leader of the Senate and dealt constantly on legislative matters with a president from the opposite political party.

THIS UNIQUE experience had an influence in shaping Mr. Johnson's tactics when, as president, he was confronted with deep divisions in both parties.

Mr. Johnson's political strategy in the presidency is much like that which legislative leaders in Congress have from time to time found it expedient to practice in trying to reconcile differences of opinion not only inside but outside their party.

The customary method is to endeavor to compromise, or find some common denominator in which there can be agreement. Highly controversial sections of proposed laws are left for favorable action at a later time.

Lyndon Johnson's tenure in the presidency has often been marked by attempts to follow a "consensus"—an effort to do what the people generally would like at the moment rather than what may prove best for the country in the long run.

The politician is more inclined to think of public opinion in the few months ahead as election day approaches.

As for the "credibility gap" which critics have talked about, there really isn't much difference in the disclosure or withholding of information than has been noted in other administrations. The tendency of high officials is to give news to the public when there is a completed act or a definite step taken, rather than to tell the press each day in piecemeal fashion the details of any incomplete discussion or negotiation. No administration should be held responsible for leaks, misinterpretations or anonymous comments.

In international affairs, particularly, when delicate matters are being handled through embassies and legations abroad, or when foreign ambassadors convey to the State Department in Washington some confidential data, it is difficult—and actually at times unwise—for a president to give out the whole story without waiting for a decision to be reached. Premature publicity could have adverse psychological effects in other countries at a critical stage of negotiations.

MR. JOHNSON is an unusual president in some respects. He has had to become involved in more policies, programs and projects than his predecessors had to tackle. This is due to the complexity of American life resulting from a rapidly expanding population.

So Mr. Johnson's approach is inevitably political. This is something which is not likely to change under the existing presidential system, especially since all the members of the House of Representatives and a third of the Senate have to be elected every two years.

Mr. Johnson is often referred to as a master politician, but craftiness is not easy to abolish when dealing with 535 politicians in Congress who have the power to pass the laws and furnish the funds that a president needs in order to perform his duties.

Lyndon Johnson is the natural product of a Congressional environment.

Odd Facts

"Going down to the sea in ships" during the historic days of whaling was no short excursion. Most whaling ships of the 19th century were at sea for as many as three years each trip.

If all the glaciers in the world were to melt, it is computed that the level of the seas would rise from 65 to 165 feet, and about half the world's land would be under water.

Medicare And Social Security-No. 3

Race With Cost Of Living

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Every time the Social Security system is altered to widen its coverage, increase benefits and raise taxes to pay the cost, the question inevitably is heard: "How long can this go on?"

This time out, there were seriously offered but finally defeated proposals to lift the earnings base not moderately from $6,600 to $7,800 as was done, but to $10,800.

The approved final new tax rate for those not self-employed is set at 5.9 per cent, to take effect in 1967. But there was talk that the rate might have to be hoisted higher by that time or earlier — possibly to 10 per cent.

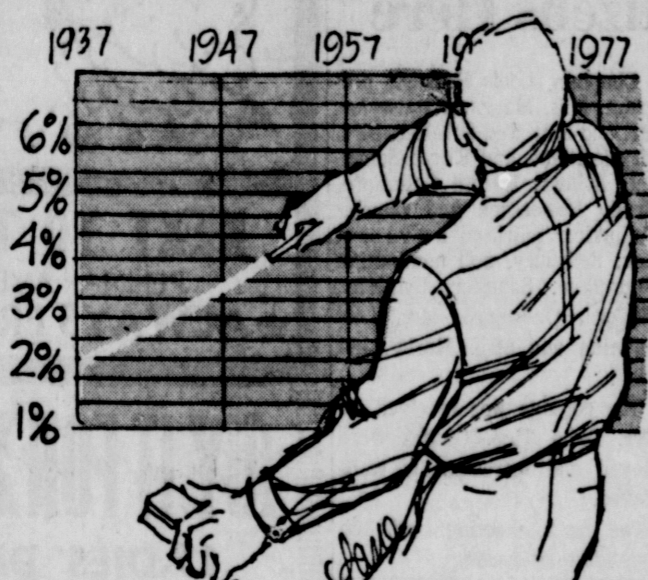

FOR A considerable number of working Americans, the Social Security tax is the only federal levy they pay outside of gasoline taxes and various excises. Their annual incomes are too low to compel them to pay federal income taxes.

Should the Social Security tax finally reach 10 per cent or more, it will become a large factor in their financial lives.

At the same time, the American citizenry seems to be demanding more and more from the Social Security system. Benefits are going to be higher.

From a few years back, hospital insurance and related protection under Medicare has been included — and with the 1967 law this is somewhat enlarged and improved.

The system is in a constant race with the rising cost of living. Since the new benefit levels taking effect with March 2 checks go up an average of 13 per cent for beneficiaries, temporarily this puts the system ahead in the inflation game. Living costs have risen just under 8 per cent since January, 1965, the last time higher benefits were voted.

But Social Security specialists and economists do not imagine this advantage will last long. Price rises can be expected to eat fairly quickly into the extra benefit cushion.

NO EXPERT in the field dares guess when the moment of truth will come — when paying workers will resist higher Social Security tax rates demanded to pay for still higher benefits, tied perhaps to steady cost of living rises (sometimes talked of now).

Some analysts and public figures, not least Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, are arguing today that the system henceforth should break away from crucial dependence on the insurance principle — with contributions by employee and employer — and turn to the general United States treasury to finance further advances.

The U. S. Senate's largely squelched more liberal version of the 1967 benefit-increase proposals did not seem, in the view of more conservative congressional types, to face up to the financing problem.

But Kennedy brought the issue into the open. And he evidently had some company among some students of the present system who think America is now sufficiently affluent to lay a heavy part of the Social Security burden directly on the treasury.

YET IT should be understood we are talking about big money. Even the Senate's less-than-dramatic proposals for higher cash benefits and a more liberal "retirement test" (the amount a man can earn and still get full retirement benefits) would have cost nearly $3 billion in the immediate future and much more later.

Plainly the insurance principle partly supporting the program will be clung to for a good many years to come. But the pressure to break loose from it will inevitably mount as demands upon Social Security rise and the taxpayer's Social Security tax dollar looks frailer and frailer as a chief support.

2-Way Crash Hurts Woman

An East Liverpool woman was injured Thursday afternoon in a collision between her husband's car and a Cincinnati man's auto at an East End intersection, police reported.

The crash at Globe and Wedgewood Sts. involved a 1965 model station wagon driven by Richard T. Ruble, 34, of 501 Oakland Ave. and a 1966 sedan operated by John E. Keck, 25, of Cincinnati and owned by the Pioneer Mutual Casualty Co. of Columbus, officers said.

Mrs. Joyce A. Ruble, 32, a passenger in her husband's car, complained of an injury to the right knee. Her husband said he would take her to a physician's office.

Ruble said he was driving west on Globe St. when he saw Keck's auto proceeding south on Wedgewood St. He said he swerved to the left, but Keck's auto struck his car on the right side. Keck said he attempted to stop, but his car skidded. The mishap was timed at 1:02.

A skid also was blamed for a collision yesterday afternoon on Walnut St. 50 feet north of E. 5th St., officers said.

It involved a 1965 two-door sedan driven by Lottie W. Walker, 47, of 1419 Main St., Wellsville, and a 1967 two-door sedan operated by Joseph D. Blankenship, 22, of 1428 Pennsylvania Ave.

The woman was driving south on Walnut St. when her auto was hit in the side by Blankenship's car. Blankenship told officers he was pulling out of a driveway alongside a business building and when he attempted to halt his car skidded on a patch of ice and hit the Walker auto. The crash was timed at 12:03.

1,398 Prisoners Handled In 1967 At County's Jail

LISBON — The Columbiana County Jail at Lisbon handled 1,398 prisoners in 1967, compared with 1,371 in 1966, and averaged 38 prisoners per day.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan said 152 of the prisoners were juveniles. The prisoners served a total of 13,964 days.

Jail cooks served 41,892 meals at an average cost of 40.7 cents per meal, compared with 37.5 cents in 1966.

The sheriff conducted 113 sales, which brought in a total of $627,554. In 1966 there were 66 sales bringing in $187,043.

Cars in the sheriff's department traveled and patrolled 217,809 miles in 1967, roughly 19,000 more than in the preceding year. Other 1967 activities follow, with 1966 figures in parentheses:

Served 4,152 (4,017) civil papers, 443 (384) warrants and 69 (56) indictments.

Accepted 372 (403) sets of fox feet and ears for the $3 bounty.

Handled 59,507 (61,111) radio transmissions and 17,104 (12,780) phone calls at the jail and admitted 2,736 (2,288) visitors.

Transported 10 (20) prisoners to the Ohio State Penitentiary, 14 (9) to the state reformatory, 12 (8) to Lima State Hospital and conveyed 32 (34) mental patients to state institutions.

Cincinnati Fire Kills 2 Children

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fire swept through a second-story apartment near downtown Cincinnati Thursday, killing two children and forcing their parents to flee through apartment windows.

Firemen found the children — Wilma Jean Barnett, 2, and her brother, James Edward, 4, in an apartment bed. Wilma was dead at the scene, James died a few hours later. Both were badly burned.

The father, Willis Barnett, 28, scrambled onto a window ledge and was rescued by firemen. His 22-year-old wife, Della, suffered a broken leg when she jumped from a second-story window.

Mrs. Barnett said the flames prevented her husband from going to the children. She said young James had been sticking paper in a space heater.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

DEAR HELOISE: I have been knee-deep in the restoration of old scrapbooks. I learned that old, yellowed newspaper clippings can be bleached white again by soaking them in a household bleach and water solution and then rinsing in clear water afterwards.

The amount of bleach is optional. I used about one cup to almost a gallon of warm water and the clippings bleached (depending on the degree of age and yellowness) in about ten to fifteen minutes.

After it's rinsed, and while it's wet, spread the clipping on a flat surface to dry and you will think it is brand new!

In my own case, I am applying the various clear films which come in a spray can and preserving the clippings indefinitely to prevent the yellowing and decay.

Incidentally, this soaking also removed all of the old paste and scrapbook paper which had adhered to the back of the clippings when removing them from the pages of the scrapbook.

MARY V. BROWN.

This was so unusual I couldn't believe it, but it's absolutely phenomenal!

I tried bleaching yellowed clippings as old as nine years. When testing, I tore each clipping in half and only bleached one part of it. The bleached clipping came out white as snow, the print did NOT smear and it looks like new again.

Now, for those who try this, let me give you a few tips.

First and foremost, do not put more than one clipping at a time in the bleach water. I tried three at once and it just doesn't work. The clippings stick together and will not turn white where they touch each other.

So put in just one at a time.

On very yellow papers, I used one cup of bleach to three cups of water. (Be sure to test a piece before you do the whole clipping.)

The next secret is, as soon as you take your old clipping out of the bleach water solution, rinse it under the faucet. Or dip it in another pan of plain water. Then "slap" it on the door of your stove or refrigerator and smooth it out with your hand.

When it dries, it will fall off! Absolutely beautiful.

And our thanks no end to our precious Mary. It's so nice to have those old wedding clippings and birth announcements white again.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is what I do when the SOLID foam filling in my throw pillows begins to get old and dry, and starts to crumble. . . .

I take the pillow outdoors and remove the cover carefully. Then, I cut the feet off of two nylon hose, split each hose down the center and stretch the stockings over the crumbling foam filling, stitching the ends together.

This adds a couple of years to the life of my pillows because wear is on the nylon and not the foam itself. Moreover, when I remove the cover for washing, I don't have the backing coated with bits of foam.

MRS. A. J. COHEN.

DEAR HELOISE: It would save a lot of time and trouble if friends would enclose a card with their name and address on flowers and gifts of food sent to the home of a deceased person. My sister and I spent hours looking up addresses in the telephone directory when writing the many thank-you notes after the death of our father.

Missing Missionary Teacher And 3 Children Found Alive

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — An American missionary teacher and three Indian children were found alive today three days after they disappeared on a hike into the dense jungle of central Malaysia's Cameron Highlands, reliable sources reported.

The sources said June Laing, 35, of Altoona, Pa., and the children were found on a tea plantation about six miles from Cameron Highlands, a popular hill resort 100 miles north of Kuala Lumpur.

A member of the tea plantation staff, reached by telephone, said the four hikers had been taken back to the district town.

There were no more immediate details on their condition or how they were found.

A staff member at the American Dalat School, where Miss Laing teaches said police notified the staff late this afternoon that the missing persons had been found.

Miss Laing and the three children of an Indian ambulance driver—a 14-year-old girl and two boys, 12 and 11—failed to return Tuesday from what was expected to be a three-hour trek up 1,340-foot Mt. Beremban in the highlands.

Nearly 100 members of the Malaysian police field force, specialists in jungle survival tactics, had joined the search today. British Gurkha soldiers, Miss Laing's teaching colleagues and aborigine trackers had been hacking their way through dense foliage, looking for the hikers, and two helicopters crisscrossed the area, but their visibility was limited by low clouds and a light drizzle.

The Dalat School is operated for children of missionaries stationed in Southeast Asia for the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church.

Bill To Boost Jobless Pay On Way To Shafer

HARRISBURG (AP) — A bill proposing to increase maximum weekly unemployment compensation benefits from $45 to $60 is on its way to Gov. Shafer's desk.

The House concurred Thursday in Senate amendments, 185-0, to complete action of the last measure in the Shafer Administration's three-bill labor package.

Bills proposing a higher minimum wage, from $1 to $1.60 by 1971, and increased workmen's compensation benefits, from a minimum of $21.50 to $35 weekly and a maximum of $52.50 to $60 weekly, were sent to Shafer Wednesday.

Passage of the measure was assured when House Democrats decided not to delay enactment of the higher benefits by resisting Senate changes.

House Democrats had inserted amendments liberalizing the pregnancy clause of the law, easing pension and social security deductions and repealing a provision requiring claimants to be "actively seeking work."

The Republican Senate, saying Shafer threatened to veto the measure if the Democratic amendments were permitted to remain, cut them out.

Catholic Church Consecrates New Bishop In Unusual Rite

By JACK SCHREIBMAN
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — In a ceremony involving a Jewish Rabbi and Protestant and orthodox leaders, the Roman Catholic Church has consecrated a new bishop.

Msgr. Mark Joseph Hurley became auxiliary bishop of San Francisco Thursday in a two-hour rite which he said crystallized "what we've been doing together" since the Vatican Council's pronouncements on ecumenism.

"I think all of these gestures we make now will become models for the future," he said after Roman Catholic prelates shared the chancel with four men of other denominations.

They were Rabbi Alvin Fine, the Rt. Rev. Richard Millard, suffragan bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California; the Most Rev. John Shahovsky, Russian Orthodox bishop of San Francisco, and Mar Esshai Shimun XXIII, Catholic patriarch of the Church of the East.

'The Peace Corps'

Students Form Group To Stop Racial Trouble

By PHILIP WECHSLER
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — After several years of racial tension and periodic violence at Atlantic City High School, the students have formed their own group, "The Peace Corps," to head off further trouble.

Their program involves what one member described as "cool diplomacy."

Corps teams, each with a Negro and a white member, are visiting classrooms during school hours in an effort to discuss racial attitudes with each of the school's 2,850 students, one third of whom are Negroes. Adults are excluded at the students' request.

The first corps project was 12 after-class meetings with seniors to air their feelings.

The corps, composed of 30 white and 30 Negro youths, was formed two months ago, a week after five policemen were assigned fulltime to patrol school corridors and yards. The policemen are still at the school.

The organization has no officers and acts on a consensus basis.

Of the present sessions, Negro senior Cory Clairborne says, "It's surprising how frankly students, both Negro and white, have spoken of their feelings."

A pretty blonde sophomore coed admitted at a corps discussion that she feared Negroes and when she saw a Negro boy in the school corridor she would walk to the other side."

She said that before she enrolled in high school "the only personal contact I had with the colored was the maid who cleaned our house."

Charles Goddman, a Negro senior and corps member, says, "The white girls' fear of Negro youths" is a basic cause of the trouble at the school.

He attributes this fear to the lack of Negro enrollment in the elementary schools of four small surrounding communities, whose pupils attend the high school, the only public high school in the area, under a tuition arrangement.

The four communities, Ventnor, Margate, Longport and Brigantine, have a total of three Negro families. There are 23,000 Negroes in Atlantic City.

Goodman contends social segregation of the races spurs "prejudiced white parents to instill in their children a fear of Negroes and when their daughters begin here they're scared."

Because of this frankness the corps has made some progress, says Sonny Popowsky, president of the student council who is white.

He says whites and Negroes are beginning to learn about each other, how they think, how they react and their goals.

One successful corps program has been the effort made at the last basketball game to integrate the seating at games. Previously whites and Negroes voluntarily sat in separate sections.

Principal William Faunce, an alumnus of the school, agrees that de facto segregation in elementary schools is a basic cause of the trouble.

"Neither the white nor the Negro youngsters are prepared when they enroll here," he explains. "They come from two different environments and are suddenly placed together. It takes time and effort to get acclimated, and it is not easy for them."

But he is optimistic about the corps and the progress it has made so far. "Just by getting the students to talk together, that's half the battle licked," he says.

The case arose after the arrest last June of an Erie Lackawanna engineer.

The three judges said the ordinance was arbitrary and unreasonable.

Treatments Are Scheduled

New Possible Malignancy Detected In Gov. Wallace

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace says her doctors have discovered a thumbnail-size nodule in her pelvic region and it is "possibly malignant."

Gov. Wallace has had two operations for cancer in less than three years.

Her doctors say treatment should take care of the growth. She returns to M. D. Anderson Hospital at Houston, Tex., Monday, to begin another series of radiation treatments.

With her will be her husband, former Gov. George Wallace, a near-certain third party candidate for president.

The treatments will last from three to four weeks. Wallace will remain with her at least part of that time, but aides say they aren't sure yet what his exact plans are.

Mrs. Wallace, 41, flew back to Montgomery Thursday afternoon from two days of tests at the cancer clinic. The latest series of checks was her second in a month.

In a statement released through an aide late Thursday, Mrs. Wallace said she expects the radiotherapy to be conducted on an out-patient basis, as it was following her second operation last July.

"From the beginning," said the governor, "I have asked my doctors to be honest and candid with me, and I will continue to be honest and candid with the people of Alabama."

She has not been back to her Capitol office since her return, and press secretary Ed Ewing said he doubted whether she would be before flying back to Houston.

Her husband returned from a trip to California, where he announced that he had obtained more than enough signatures needed to get his American Independent party on California's ballot.

What effect his wife's illness would have on his presidential campaigning was not revealed.

"This," said one Wallace aide, referring to Mrs. Wallace's possible illness, "has taken precedence over everything else. We haven't even discussed anything else."

However, Ewing announced later that Wallace was postponing a speech which was to have been televised tonight in Alabama and Florida.

Mrs. Wallace's history of cancer dates back to 1965, when she underwent a series of radiation treatments in Montgomery intended to kill a tumor of the uterus.

When her doctors decided the treatments weren't sufficient, she underwent a hysterectomy early in 1966, before her successful campaign for governor.

Last July, further surgery was performed at the Houston hospital for removal of another malignant growth, this one requiring removal of eight to ten inches of the colon. She underwent a subsequent series of radiation treatments last fall intended to kill any remaining microscopic traces of the cancer.

Student Appeals To Supreme Court On Draft Card Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — A University of Washington graduate student is asking the Supreme Court to bar draft boards from speeding the induction of young men who destroy their draft cards to protest the Vietnam war.

The appeal by Russell Milton Wills, 28, is the first attempt to draw the court into the controversy over reclassifying student protesters.

On October 15, 1965, Wills wrote his draft board in Berkeley, Calif., that "I have intentionally destroyed my draft card and will henceforth refuse to carry another."

Reacting quickly, the board declared Wills a "delinquent," stripped him of his student classification and made him I-A. He refused to be inducted, was tried, found guilty and sentenced to five years in prison.

The heart of Wills' appeal to the Supreme Court is the claim that destruction of a draft card is "a peaceful act of symbolic speech" protected by the Constitution against punishment.

In a case to be heard by the high court later this month, David P. O'Brien of Framingham, Mass., is making a similar claim in challenging the 1965 federal law that makes it a crime to burn a draft card.

O'Brien's punishment was prosecution under that law and a six-year sentence. The U.S. Circuit Court in Boston ruled the law unconstitutional and now the Supreme Court will hear the Justice Department's appeal.

Wills claims that his reclassification was punishment. The court is likely to say by the time it hears the O'Brien case whether it will grant a hearing to Wills.

Last October, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, recommended that students who throw away or tear up their draft cards be declared delinquent.

In a follow-up letter Hershey said persons who illegally interfere with the draft or military recruiting could lose their deferments.

This touched off protests—and lawsuits—that the draft was being used unconstitutionally to punish protesters of the Vietnam war.

In early December, Hershey and Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said draft registrants involved in "lawful protest activities" need not fear priority call-ups.

At the end of the year, Joseph A. Califano Jr., special assistant to President Johnson, told a group of concerned college presidents that the Selective Service System "is not an instrument to repress and punish unpopular views."

If the Supreme Court takes on the Wills case, the ruling may turn on whether his protest action was "lawful" and whether reclassification is punishment.

Water is the most generally corrosive fluid known.

Ship

ships were damaged by U.S. planes.

The note accused the United States of "drawing no appropriate conclusions from these warnings."

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the Pereslav-Zalesky's "marine engines were put out of order, the stern was smashed and there are holes in the ship's hull... as a result of an explosion of an aerial bomb."

It said the attack occurred during the late afternoon. It said the ship had carried a cargo of food to Haiphong.

Tass said Capt. Boris Tsevetkov, the Pereslav-Zalesky's master, radioed this report of the bombing:

The American planes bombed Haiphong for two hours from altitudes of 1,500 to 1,800 feet in clear weather.

Seven bombs landed 10 to 20 yards from the Soviet ship, while an eighth—a delayed action bomb—hit a loaded barge about six feet from the ship's port side and exploded 25 minutes later.

"As a result of the blast, all mechanism and a pipeline were dislodged in the engine room, water is flooding into the ship through holes in the hull, while the pumps have broken down."

"There are no casualties among the 41-man crew."

Tass said later reports, including some from the Soviet "rescue ship" Argus, indicated that the Pereslav-Zalesky could not move under own power.

"It is difficult to bring the ship to a mooring dock because the port is literally strewn with delayed-action aerial bombs," a report said.

U.S. military spokesmen in Saigon refused to comment on the Soviet charge. Today's war communiques in Saigon describing the raids on North Vietnam Thursday told of attacks on two of Haiphong's bridges but there were no reports of attacks on the harbor.

Lisbon Mayor Receives Oath

LISBON — Mayor Clyde B. Pike administered the oath of office Thursday night to Ray Beers, who is filling the Council vacancy created Jan. 1 when Pike became mayor, succeeding Dean Stockman.

Beers served on Council in 1952-53. The legislators appointed him Dec. 28 to complete Pike's term, which runs through 1969.

Council elected Bill Mattix president, succeeding Pike, and at the mayor's recommendation reappointed Solicitor Joseph Baronzi and Street Commissioner Dick Roberts, both for two years.

The meeting was the first for Willis Coleman Jr. and William Robinson, who were elected in November. Mattix, Fayson Miller and Franklin Rudibaugh are the carryover councilmen. However, Rudibaugh has been employed in Cleveland since last fall and rarely attends.

Mayor Pike directed the fire committee to meet with volunteer firemen to discuss the appointment of a chief. Thirl Flanagan, who works in Salem, has been acting chief 15 years since the retirement of the late Dr. John Steele.

Council will meet again Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the Town Hall.

To marinate cooked vegetables to serve as a first-course or salad, toss the vegetables with the chosen marinade and then chill for a few hours for flavors to blend. If the oil in the marinade congeals, allow to stand in room temperature before serving.

What 'Rash' Of Ethnic Humor?

The broadcasters' TV Code Authority recently sent out a special word of caution to its members on the matter of handling ethnic humor.

There has been a recent rash of material using various nationalities, their culture, customs or music in comedy routines, and most of this presents no problems. However, to minimize complaints and to recognize the sensitivities that do exist, it is suggested that subscribers be on the alert for any situation or dialog that might be offensive to viewers of specific nationality backgrounds," read the notice.

I WASN'T AWARE of any "rash" of ethnic humor on my TV tube, nor, I'd say, are many viewers. Upon investigating, I discovered what prompted the TV Code Authority's worry was some reaction to a skit of Carol Burnett's in which she and Nannette Fabray and Harvey Korman did a comedy takeoff kidding French, Polish and Japanese airline service.

The Polish-American Congress of East Hampton, Mass., was upset over the handling of the Polish airline spoof and complained to CBS management, which promptly apologized.

I did not see the particular show, so cannot offer an opinion on whether the Polish-American Congress was unduly disturbed or not. I do think the TV Code Authority overreacted, however, and by so doing has scared writers and producers further away from ethnic humor of any kind.

THE LACK of ethnic humor on TV the past few years is one more reason for the blandness of most TV comedy. In the old radio days we had "Amos 'n' Andy," "Life With Luigi," "The Goldbergs" and "Mama," and all of these were transferred to TV, but except for "Mama," which had a seven-season run, the others were short-lived.

Sponsors got skittish about offending any nationality and decided the risk with such shows was too much.

Today the closest thing we have to an ethnic comedy on TV is "The Beverly Hillbillies." So far as I know there's no Hill-billy-American Congress to protest, so the Clampett family continues on its merry and successful way.

FRED ALLEN'S "Alley" was one of the joys of listening to radio years ago because of residents Ajax Cassidy and Mrs. Nussbaum.

The late Fred Allen used to get some squawks from those who thought the characters ridiculed the Irish and the Jews, but Fred ignored them, knowing it was only a minority opinion from within a minority group.

There are, unhappily, times when a writer's good judgment fails him and malicious overtones will creep into a comedy script, but generally, I think, those who object to most ethnic humor are without a sense of humor, so react adversely automatically to any joke or situation involving nationality.

THERE ARE JEWS who do not like the comedy routines of Myron Cohen or Jackie Mason simply because they tell their jokes with a Yiddish dialect. Dick Gregory and Godfrey Cambridge have some wonderfully funny stories on their own race which I'm sure are not appreciated by all Negroes, hence TV shrinks from letting them tell such stories.

It was Jack Paar who discovered Cambridge for the white entertainment world. Jack saw a tape of Cambridge on a concert date at Morgan State College, a Negro school in Baltimore, and ran it on his show.

Cambridge was hilarious, but until that TV appearance hardly anyone had heard of him. He isn't in anyone's TV series, however, and isn't likely to be.

THE TV CODE Authority's standard on ethnic humor says in part, "Racial or nationality types shall not be shown on television in such a manner as to ridicule the race or nationality."

That's a noble and sensible enough statement, but the TV industry should not let just any kook who comes along do the interpreting of that Code standard for it.

McCarthy Believes Kennedy Support Would Be Big Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy believes a word of support from a Kennedy — almost any Kennedy — would be a big help to his challenge to President Johnson in several presidential primaries.

McCarthy is known to have voiced dissatisfaction because no such words have been forthcoming from either Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., or Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Like the Minnesota Democrat, both Senators Kennedy have been critical of Johnson's policy in the Vietnam war. But neither has done anything to align himself politically with McCarthy on that issue.

Sources familiar with McCarthy's view said he feels the two Kennedys are perhaps the only congressional colleagues whose support would bolster his campaign, particularly in the New Hampshire and Massachusetts primaries.

Other men who would seem to be likely allies also have been silent. But many of them are running for re-election next year — men like Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

McCarthy, it was said, understands their position, and feels that their endorsement would be unlikely to have much impact anyhow.

The Minnesota senator also is known to be concerned about building momentum for his campaign. "You can't just fade away," he remarked to one visitor. This is believed to be a key factor in his decision to enter the year's opening primary, the New Hampshire race in March 12.

To campaign there, he dropped a planned trip to Vietnam this winter. Candidate tours of the war zone are being overdone, he feels.

On that point, McCarthy cites the experience of Michigan Gov. George Romney, a Republican candidate for the presidency, who harvested adverse publicity during a year-end trip to Vietnam. The New Hampshire cam-

Beaver Local At Oak Glen Tops 20-Game Schedule

Sports Whirled

Dr. Richard Rapp, a professor of geodetic science at Ohio State, believes that track and field records should be corrected to 40 degrees latitude because of differences in gravity at the poles and the equator.

According to Dr. Rapp, gravity is less at the equator, and a javelin could be thrown 19 inches farther there than at the poles, using the same effort. Mexico City, site of this year's Olympics, is closer to the equator than Tokyo, the 1964 Olympic site, and the javelin can be thrown 4 3/8 inches farther with the same effort used at Tokyo.

It seems to me that most track meets are run close enough to 40 degrees (the 40th parallel runs somewhere between Weirton and Wheeling in this area) that records would be affected by a very few inches, at most, (the javelin is the most affected, the broad jump is 1/11 as sensitive), and that geodetics professors should turn their attention to weightier matters. The question of altitude and its corresponding lack of air pressure at the Mexico City games is something else again, however, and merits considerable scientific research.

THE BRAZILIAN basketball team, in Philadelphia for the world amateur basketball championships, sports a player named Emil Rached who is 7-9. That's seven inches taller than Lew Alcindor, eight inches taller than Wilt Chamberlain and six inches taller than Swede Holbrook.

RUMORS PERSIST that Leroy Kelly of the Browns, NFL rushing champion, will join Paul Brown and his new Cincinnati AFL franchise next season. Kelly reportedly played out his option at Cleveland this year.

AFTER SUNDAY'S experiment in polar football at Green Bay, grid fans won't know what to think when they see a line Green Bay -13. It could be the temperature or it could be the spot. (For those who don't rabble in such matters, the spot is the point spread on a football pool card. Green Bay -13 would mean the Packers were 13-point favorites.)

THE 76ERS ARE angling for Howard Kermies of the Knicks. The former Bowling Green star has not been playing much this season due to a surplus of guards on the New York roster and Philadelphia has a thin bench, with only Matt Goukas and Bill Melchionni to sub for Hal Greer and Wally Jones at guard.

PHILADELPHIA writers feel that the Jim Bunning deal will mean a pennant for the Pirates and that the Phillies could finish eighth, especially if Richie Allen is hampered by his hand injury.

Princeton Tops NYU; Oklahoma City Loses

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Princeton's Chris Thomforde is thinking about being a missionary, maybe in a big city, he says. Lou Rossini wishes he'd find some nice, small out-of-the-way place where NYU is never likely to play basketball.

After a fairly erratic first half Thursday night, Thomforde came on strong to lead the Tigers to a 78-62 triumph over Rossini's Violets and make Princeton's return to Madison Square Garden after a three-year absence a happy one.

Thomforde, a rangy blond, said he is seriously considering a career as a missionary and probably in a large town, where he says people and their problems are. But Thursday, his 21 points and 10 rebounds made more than enough problems to last NYU for a while.

Eighth-ranked Oklahoma City, the only member of the Top Ten that played Thursday night, lost to Nevada Southern 96-92 in Las Vegas. The setback was the Chief's first of the season after eight victories. NSU is 9-3.

Nevada Southern scored eight straight points in the final minute of play after trailing 90-88. Curtis Watson stole the ball from OCU's Ron Koper to tie the game and seconds later Watson came up with another steal and the go-ahead basket.

Oklahoma City overcame a 47-42 halftime deficit and led by as much as eight points—87-46 with eight minutes to play before Nevada Southern launched its comeback.

Elburt Miller topped the Rebels with 32 points and Don Lyons added 28. Ron Koper was high for the Chiefs with 24.

Long Island University, No. 3 in the small-college rankings, won its 11th straight game, defeating Seton Hall 53-47. Cliff Culkulo scored 21 points for the Blackbirds.

Louisville, getting 18 points from West Unseld and 18 from Jerry King, won its second Missouri Valley Conference game, topping Tulsa 65-50 on the road.

Bradley won its third MVC game, beating Wichita State 104-92 behind Joe Allen's 26 points.

Cincinnati opened its Missouri Valley season with a 61-53 triumph over North Texas State. Rick Roberson scored 14 points and pulled in 23 rebounds.

In other games, the Citadel beat Loyola of New Orleans 61-59. St. John's whipped Syracuse 79-58. Rutgers beat Dartmouth 79-52 and Utah State beat American U. 94-78.

The last two Hula Bowl contests one-point thrillers. The North won both games 28-27 and 27-26.

In Saturday's game, the South is given the edge, but it should be close.

On offense, the South will be using Gary Beban of UCLA as a quarterback and Warren McVea of Houston, a lightning runner, will be back there with him. The North will use a big-back offense with Larry Csonka of Syracuse, Silas McKinnie of Iowa and Bob Apisa of Michigan State.

Daugherty said, "Our quarterbacks, Jimmy Rave and Rick Cassata, are roll-out types who like to run."

The rule, loved by fans but raved by players, helped make

Americans Star In NHL

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who said it was un-American to star in the National Hockey League? For sure, they weren't talking about Doug Roberts of Detroit and Tom Williams of Duluth, Minn.

The two Americans came through for the red, white and blue and for their club Thursday night.

Roberts, a rookie, scored twice as the Detroit Red Wings overwhelmed Oakland 9-3. Williams had one goal and assisted on the winner by Phil Esposito that gave the Boston Bruins a 3-2 victory over Philadelphia and moved them into a tie for first place with Chicago in the East Division.

Pittsburgh downed Los Angeles 4-3 in the only other NHL action. The circuit, which has 10 teams in the United States and

Colorado's Anderson North's Senior Bowl Ace

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — The North is loaded with all-star football players, but the South has been warned to beware in particular in Saturday's Senior Bowl game of defensive back Dick Anderson of Colorado.

"You've never seen anything like him," South Coach Hank Stram of the Kansas City Chiefs was warned Thursday night by Georgia Coach Vince Dooley, who watched Anderson beat his South team in the Blue-Gray game a week ago.

"He's got more moves than anything I've ever seen," Dooley told Stram after watching Anderson return punts for 62 and 69 yards in a winning comeback. Stram, coaching his first all-star team after sending the Chiefs into the Super Bowl a year ago, said he has been impressed by all of the players in the game which starts at 2 p.m.

EST and will be televised nationally by NBC.

The South will be counting on the passing of Florida State's Kim Hammond and Tennessee's Dewey Warren to carry Dixie of victory and snap the region out of a holiday slump in which it has won but one of nine bowl and all-star games.

The North is counting on the passing of Paul Toscano of Wyoming and John Schneider of Toledo to carry it to the Yankees' second straight victory.

The North will be out to narrow the series margin in the 19th annual game in which the South takes a 11-6-1 edge. A capacity crowd of more than 40,000 is expected.

All-Stars Include Lucas, 'O'

NEW YORK (AP)— Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas of the Cincinnati Royals were among the 10 players named today to the Eastern squad for the National Basketball Association's All-Star game.

Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain was the only unanimous selection of the sports writers and sportscasters who picked the team for the game to be played here Jan. 23.

Others named were Bill Russell, John Havlicek and Sam Jones of Boston, Willis Reed of New York, Dave Bing and Dave DeBusschere of Detroit and Hal Greer of Philadelphia.

Simmy Hill Still 7th In Scoring

St. Francis of Loretto continues to lead the country in rebounding, grabbing 65.7 per cent, and Midland's Simmy Hill is still averaging 28.3 ppg for West Texas State to hold on to seventh place nationally, according to the latest statistics released by the NCAA.

Fred Foster of Miami is ninth in scoring, Steve Mix of Toledo 23rd, Ron Williams of West Virginia 35th and Walt Piatkowski of Bowling Green and George Stone of Marshall tied for 42nd. Mix is 18th in field goal percentage and Williams 11th in foul shooting. Dick Cunningham of Canton and Murray State is third in rebounding and Don May of Dayton 12th.

Toledo is third in scoring, averaging 97.3, while St. Francis is hitting 92.9 for sixth spot, Cincinnati is 20th in defense with a 65.1 mark. Toledo is seventh in field goal percentage, Miami 10th and Ohio State 14th. Toledo is fifth in scoring margin.

Hula Bowl Expected To Be High Scoring

HONOLULU (AP) — Every one on the Honolulu sports scene, including the coaches, predicts a storm at the 22nd annual Hula Bowl Saturday—a storm of action and scoring.

South Coach Tommy Prothro said, "You can look for an exciting game. Exciting and close, and very likely high scoring."

"It'll be wide open—can't help but be with all the talent," said Duffy Daugherty, the North coach. "There'll be a lot of points on the board."

One thing that will put the points there is "the rule." The rule says the team that is behind can choose to take the kickoff, whether or not it has just scored a touchdown.

The rule, loved by fans but raved by players, helped make

Rams Double Workouts For Game With Browns

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams, sidetracked from the Super Bowl, and Cleveland Browns, working to block a repeat of their humiliation at the hands of the Dallas Cowboys, continued workouts today for the National Football League Playoff Bowl—with time out for lunch.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle and coaches of both teams were to attend the $5 a plate luncheon that is part of the buildup for Sunday's eighth annual meeting between the runners-up of the Eastern and Western conferences.

"We'd hoped to be here for the Super Bowl," said Rams Coach George Allen. "It was a tremendous disappointment. But we're making progress. This was only our second year together."

To use Allen's favorite phrase, "everybody is giving 110 per cent" in workouts for the game.

Nobody around here ever heard of two-a-day practice sessions for the Playoff Bowl. It's a fun game. But two-a-day is what Allen ordered.

He sent out two extra tackling sleds and when Lamar Lundy or Deacon Jones or somebody else slammed a sled, Allen shouted:

"Leroy Kelly." Kelly is a ball-carrying runner for the Browns. Defensive tackle Roger Brown said of Allen, "We work harder during the regular season than I ever did with the Detroit Lions. But Allen's a great coach to play for. You know what you're going to be doing every minute."

At the Browns' practice sessions, flanker Gary Collins was drilling on his pass receiving and musing over the 52-14 embarrassment at Dallas when the Cowboys took the Eastern Conference showdown.

"We were so humiliated at Dallas," said Collins. "We've got to stay with the Rams." Collins has had his least productive season since he became a regular in 1963, pulling in just 32 pass receptions for seven touchdowns. His punting average was 36.5 yards, a comedown from 1965 when he led the NFL with 46.7 yards.

In 1965 Collins also grabbed 50 passes for 10 touchdowns and had 56 for 12 in 1966.

Collins at his Miami Stadium workout Thursday said, "I don't think any of us had a real great year offensively."

The playoff will be nationally televised by CBS with a 2 p.m., EST, kickoff.

Indoor Track Season Launched In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two young Swedes whose European records mark them as top contenders are among 11 foreigners who will compete tonight in the fifth annual Examiner All-American Games.

They are Ulf Hoegberg, 21, who has gone 3:39.3 for 1,500 meters and 3:58.9 for the mile, and Jan Dahlgren, 20, with a 7-foot-1½ high jump.

They flew in Wednesday night for their first look at America. After competing at the Cow Palace tonight, they are scheduled for indoor meets in Boston Jan. 13, Los Angeles, Jan. 20, and the Athens Invitational at Oakland, Calif. Jan. 25.

Hoegberg, 5-10 and 140, hopes to make the Swedish Olympics team and sees America's Jim Ryun, the world recordholder, as the man to beat.

Dahlgren, 6-foot and 160, believes he can jump about 7-foot-3½. That's two inches better than his winning mark for the European team in Montreal last summer.

Dahlgren is one of six high jumpers entered here who have exceeded 7 feet. The others are Max Lowe of Southern California; John Dobroth, unattached; John Rambo, Pacific Coast Club; Otis Burrell, Southern California Striders, three-time AAU outdoor winner, and Ed Caruthers of Arizona.

Bob Schulz, 3:58.9 outdoors and the 1964 Olympics 5000-meter gold medalist, tops the mile field.

The entry list is filled with Olympians, Olympics prospects and world recordholders.

Ace sprinter Charlie Greene, Jim Hine, Billy Gaines and Willie Turner head 15 entries who forced the 60-yard dash to be split. Tommie Smith, who holds many sprint marks, will try 300 yards his first time.

Southern California's Rose Bowl champion Trojans sent O.J. Simpson and Earl McCullough to see if football had lessened their speed. In all, there are 22 events, including three for women.

Lonborg To Leave Hospital

BOSTON (AP) — Jim Lonborg, the Boston Red Sox' pitching ace, hoped to hobble out of the hospital today and place his immediate future in the hands of Buddy LeRoux, a "trainer of champions."

LeRoux, who administered to the Boston Celtics during several National Basketball Association title years before moving to the Red Sox, had an afternoon appointment to pick up Lonborg at Santa Maria Hospital.

The Red Sox trainer showed up on schedule to take Lonborg to the LeRoux home Thursday night, but it was decided to hold the pitcher until today.

Lonborg, a 24-year-old right-hander, suffered torn ligaments in his left knee while skiing on the California-Nevada state line Dec. 23 and underwent surgery here Dec. 27.

A new cast applied Thursday failed to dry out sufficiently to permit Lonborg's discharge from the hospital later in the day.

LeRoux has been given complete charge of Lonborg's recuperation by Red Sox Manager Dick Williams.

"I spoke with Buddy and he told me that we could expect Lonnie back in early May," Williams said at his winter home in Florida. "I'm leaving it entirely up to Buddy."

$50,000 Stofa Pact Disclaimed

CINCINNATI (AP) — The coach-general manager of the newly formed Cincinnati Bengals is denying a report from Miami that quarterback John Stofa agreed to a two-year, no-cut $50,000 contract with the Cincinnati club.

Paul Brown told the Cincinnati Enquirer Thursday he hasn't even talked contract with Stofa. "In fact, our first meeting to discuss contract terms is set for early in February," he said.

The Miami News said earlier Thursday the former Miami Dolphin quarterback had accepted a verbal contract with the Bengals.

Stofa was traded to the Cincinnati club last month for two high draft choices.

Damascus Running Tomorrow

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Seven thoroughbreds are slated to open their 1968 campaigns the hard way Saturday—by opposing Damascus, the 1967 Horse of the Year.

The event is the $40,000-added, seven-furlong Malibu Stakes at Santa Anita, a stepping stone to the $50,000-added 1¼-mile San Fernando and the $100,000-added Charles H. Strub at 1¼ miles. All three races are restricted to 4-year-olds.

Damascus, who won a season-record $817,941 for owner Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft last year, has been impressive in workouts since arriving in California in mid-December even though trainer Frank Y. Whiteley Jr. says he isn't much of a work horse.

Other stakes races Saturday are the $25,000 Nellie Morse Handicap over six furlongs for fillies and mares at Pimlico, the $20,000 Orange Bowl Handicap at 1-16 miles at Tropical and the $10,000, six-furlong Tan Zareta Stakes for fillies and mares 3-years-and-up at the New Orleans Fair Grounds.

Michigan State football teams coached by Duffy Daugherty have an 85-42-4 record.

Soccer Loops Merge Into 19 Teams

NEW YORK (AP) — Owners of the newly-named Professional Soccer League were expected to determine today the number of teams and the cities that will be included in its two-division setup next season.

Executives of the league, an amalgamation of the National Professional Soccer League and the United Soccer Association, disclosed Thursday that:

1. Kansas City has taken over the franchise of the Chicago Spurs of the NPSL.

2. Pittsburgh of the NPSL will not operate next season.

3. Los Angeles of the NPSL is expected to move to San Diego.

It was also revealed that Boston of the USA will leave that city to the Boston Beacons of the NPSL, which will start play in 1968.

Toronto of the USA is bowing out, leaving the Canadian city to the Toronto Falcons. San Francisco of the USA has merged with Vancouver, leaving the Bay area to the Oakland Clippers, NLSL champions.

In addition, the New York entries, the Skyliner of the USA and the Generals of the NPSL, also have merged.

The developments left the merged pro circuit with a maximum of 19 teams for the coming season which is scheduled to start April 1.

Other teams in the circuit are Atlanta, Baltimore, Cleveland, Dallas, Detroit, Houston, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Washington.

Pittsburgh Phantoms Fade Away

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Phantoms professional soccer club has become as shadowy as its nickname.

The club dropped out of the National Professional Soccer League Thursday leaving only a misty hope of revival in the future after Pittsburgh's sports stadium is built.

John Pollock, vice president and treasurer, said the team was being disbanded after absorbing losses of about $700,000 in the first full season of the NPSL.

Pollock said negotiations to merge with a Chicago team and move to Milwaukee fell through.

He said the club could not attract new investors to back a team playing in Forbes Field because the stadium is unsuitable for soccer spectators. After the new stadium is built, the club will have the right of first choice of a franchise in the newly merged NPSL and United Soccer Association.

All-America fullback Larry Csonka of Syracuse set six Orange records last season by rushing for 1,127 yards. He led the team in scoring with 62 points.

Packers Sell Out 21 Times

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, as successful at the box office as they are on the playing field, performed before a record 1,376,283 persons in 1967.

Vince Lombardi, head coach and general manager, announced Thursday that the Packers played to 21 consecutive sellouts during the 1967 season.

The only game that was not a complete sellout was the College All-Star game, the first contest of the preseason schedule. A crowd of 70,934 turned out for that one.

Counted in the total, along with the preseason and regular season games, were the National Football League titlegame at Dallas last Jan. 1 and the first Super Bowl game lured 63,036.

Some 382,105 persons saw the Packers in six preseason games and 754,921 watched 14 regular season games. For this fall's postseason games, against the Rams for the Western Division crown and against the Cowboys, again, for the NFL title, 100,722 persons attended.

The Packers will get 1968 off to a good start by playing to a sellout crowd in the second Super Bowl at Miami, Fla., Jan. 14 against the Oakland Raiders. It was announced Thursday that all tickets for the game have been sold, guaranteeing more than 70,000 spectators.

East Junior Loses 40-34

East Junior dropped its fourth game in six starts yesterday, losing 40-34 at East to Weirton Madonna.

Rick Welsh and Ralph Seever had eight each for Bob Thompson's team. Yakunich had 16 for the winners.

Nixon Seen Victorious
In 3 Primary Contests

By The Associated Press

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon probably will win substantial victories in the Republican presidential primaries in New Hampshire, Nebraska and Oregon, a survey in the Christian Science Monitor predicts.

The newspaper also states that Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's campaign to win the Democratic primaries is "groping" and "isn't causing too much anxiety at the White House."

Nixon victories are highly likely in all primaries he enters, the Monitor declared, with the possible exception of Wisconsin where Michigan Gov. George Romney "will make a good showing and could even win."

The Monitor reported Johnson supporters "are rallying" and regular Democratic organizations in several primary states are at work. The paper predicted the President will probably poll more votes than the combined totals of McCarthy and former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

McCarthy probably will pick up enough Vietnam war protest votes to embarrass the President, the paper reported.

McCarthy, meanwhile, was reported unhappy because neither Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., nor Sen. Edward M.

Pope Appeals For Peace
In Nigeria's Civil WarBy ARNOLD ZEITLIN
Associated Press Writer

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The exhausting toll of Nigeria's six months of civil war has turned both sides toward talk of negotiations they don't know how to start.

They have plenty of help. Pope Paul VI has appealed for peace in Nigeria and has sent a two-man delegation to West Africa to follow up his plea.

Four American civil rights leaders, partly to show they are as interested in Africa as they are in Vietnam, have suggested a visit to Nigeria to offer their counsel.

President William Tubman of Liberia, who disdainfully withdrew a month ago from a much-postponed Organization of African Unity mission to Lagos, has suggested former Nigerian President Nnamdi Azikiwe take the lead in bringing the federal government and secessionist Biafra together for talks.

In a year-end message, Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, 33, head of the federal military government, repeated several times the regime's willingness to negotiate with Biafran leaders "how to bring about peace and heal the wounds of the country."

Poet-Playwright
Sentenced, Fined
In Newark Riot

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Le-Roi Jones, the Negro poet-playwright who advocates separation of the races, was sentenced to two and a half to three years in Trenton State Prison Thursday and fined $1,000 for possessing weapons during last summer's Newark riots.

Essex County Judge Leon W. Kapp handed down the sentences to Jones and two codefendants in a lengthy statement which drew several outbursts from the African-gowned Jones and several of his supporters.

At one point, Kapp directed more than two dozen court officers and police to eject about half a dozen shouting supporters of Jones from the courtroom.

One youth, Alfred Scott, 17, of Newark, was arrested in an ensuing scuffle.

One of Jones' codefendants, Charles McCray, 33, was sentenced to 18 months in the Essex County Penitentiary—12 months in custody and the rest on probation—and fined $500. The other, Barry Wynn, 23, received an 18-month term—nine in custody and nine on probation—and was fined $250.

Junior Editors Quiz on VAMPIRES

ANSWER: Many primitive people believed in witches and demons. They thought diseases were caused by them and they used elaborate ceremonies to try to drive them away. Perhaps the most horrifying demon was the vampire, who was supposed to be the restless ghost of some dead person who would come out of a grave at night and suck blood from someone who was living. Today we realize that such notions were as untrue as those of vicious old witches whipping around the night sky on broomsticks. There is, however, a real vampire of the animal world, who actually does fly out at night and suck blood from living animals. This is the vampire bat of the tropical parts of America. This is, of course, not a ghost or demon but a little animal who has developed blood-sucking habits in order to keep alive. But its face (lower right) has such a vicious look that we can understand how some of the old superstitions may have arisen. Other kinds of bats are not harmful like the vampire. Most are useful to man since they devour such quantities of insects.

Billy Paden of Chillicothe, Mo., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash if your question, mailed to Junior Editors in care of The Review, is selected for a prize.

Ten years ago—The head of the U.S. Army's research program, Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, announced he was retiring. Five years ago—France was warm in its response to an American proposal to supply the French with U.S. Polaris missiles. One year ago — It was announced that more than 5,000 Americans had been killed in the fighting in South Vietnam.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you published a letter from a girl who wanted to know how to defend herself against a man who got fresh in a self-service elevator. I'm a male who would like some similar advice.

I'm a middle-aged man with a lovely wife and family. I'm not interested in playing around, but the women who work in this building won't leave me alone.

I'm well-built, have prematurely gray hair and I look a lot like Gary Grant. On three separate occasions in the past six months I've been propositioned in the elevator.

The last time, a woman who is at least 10 years older than I pushed the emergency stop button between floors and said, "Would you like to kiss me?"

If you think I'm putting you on, let me assure you, you never have received a more earnest plea for help in your life. Thanks in advance, Ann. CLAUSTROPHOBIA.

Dear Ann Landers: I don't know what you have, fella, but apparently you have a lot more than you need. My advice is to take the stairs. Not only would it solve your problem but stair-climbing is good for the ol' ticker, according to the heart specialists.

Judgement Day

Dear Ann: Because: (a) alcoholism is increasing and (b)

She's A Nag

Dear Ann: Last week our neighbor invited several couples to her home for dinner. She served horseradish with the roast beef and my husband raved over it. He said it was just like the horseradish his mother used to make and he asked her how she fixed it. She replied, "I didn't fix it. I BOUGHT IT."

She then offered to buy him a bottle as "a gift." Nothing more was said but I didn't like her getting THAT friendly.

Yesterday the woman brought over a jar of horseradish. I tried every which way to get her to let me pay for it, but she wouldn't tell me how much it

W. Va. Imposes
Weight Limit On Ohio River Span

CHARLESTON (AP)—The State Road Commission has imposed a 5,500 - pound gross vehicle weight limit on the two - lane bridge over the Ohio River at Williamstown near Parkersburg.

A commission spokesman said Thursday the new weight limitation would remain effective pending inspection of the span. Before the order the bridge had a 10,000-pound weight limitation.

The two-lane span carries U.S. 21 and W.Va. 31 traffic over the river to Marietta, Ohio.

The spokesman said the SRC has "no reason to believe" the two-lane bridge is not structurally sound. He added the commission hopes that this precautionary measure would help channel traffic over the new Interstate 77 bridge at Williams-town.
